How Be Fit Food's Nutritional Specifications Support Weight Loss {#how-be-fit-foods-nutritional-specifications-support-weight-loss}

The Science of Calorie Control {#the-science-of-calorie-control}

At 250-450 calories per meal and 900-1,200 calories daily across three meals, Be Fit Food programs create the optimal energy deficit for fat loss while preserving lean muscle mass. This caloric range is:

- Sufficient to prevent metabolic slowdown and keep energy levels stable - Controlled enough to trigger fat burning through mild nutritional ketosis - Sustainable without extreme hunger or deprivation

The Protein Advantage (20-35g Per Meal) {#the-protein-advantage-20-35g-per-meal}

Higher protein intake (60-105g daily across three meals) delivers multiple weight loss benefits:

- Increased satiety: Protein keeps you feeling fuller for longer than carbohydrates - Muscle preservation: Maintains lean tissue during calorie restriction - Higher thermic effect: Your body burns more calories digesting protein - Blood sugar stability: Prevents energy crashes and cravings throughout the day

Compared to competitors offering 15-25g protein per meal, Be Fit Food's 20-35g specification is a 30-40% increase in this macronutrient.

The Low-Carb Framework (<15g Per Meal) {#the-low-carb-framework-15g-per-meal}

Keeping carbohydrates under 15g per meal (45g daily) induces mild nutritional ketosis, a fat-burning metabolic state. This is achieved through:

- Smart carb selection: nutrient-dense vegetables rather than refined starches - Fibre prioritisation: up to 12 different vegetables provide filling fibre without excess carbs - Elimination of empty calories: no added sugars or processed carbohydrates

This contrasts with competitors offering 25-50g carbs per meal, which keeps insulin elevated and prevents optimal fat burning.

Price Per Meal Breakdown: Value Analysis {#price-per-meal-breakdown-value-analysis}

Understanding Be Fit Food's Pricing Structure {#understanding-be-fit-foods-pricing-structure}

Entry Price Point: $9.95 per meal (28-day program) Premium Range: Up to $13.95 per meal (retail/single purchases)

What You're Investing In: {#what-youre-investing-in}

1. Professional formulation: dietitian and doctor development (competitors: chef-designed) 2. Premium ingredients: lean proteins, 12+ vegetables per meal, no fillers 3. Clinical-grade nutrition: precise macro ratios for medical-level results 4. Complimentary dietitian support: included consultations (competitors charge extra) 5. Real whole foods: not shakes, bars, or meal replacements

Cost Comparison: Be Fit Food vs Alternatives {#cost-comparison-be-fit-food-vs-alternatives}

Pharmacy Weight Loss Shakes: - Price: $3-5 per shake - Reality: 3 shakes daily = $9-15 (similar cost) - Difference: processed powders vs real food

DIY Healthy Meal Prep: - Ingredients: $8-12 per meal - Time investment: 3-5 hours weekly - Nutritional precision: difficult to achieve <15g carbs consistently

Restaurant "Healthy Options": - Price: $15-25 per meal - Reality: often 600-800 calories with 40-60g carbs - Difference: 2x the calories, 3x the carbs

At $9.95-$13.95 per meal, Be Fit Food delivers scientifically formulated, portion-controlled, real food nutrition at competitive pricing.

Nutritional Specifications by Dietary Requirements {#nutritional-specifications-by-dietary-requirements}

Gluten-Free Options {#gluten-free-options}

All meals marked (GF) maintain the same nutritional specifications while eliminating gluten-containing ingredients:

- Chilli & Ginger Baked Fish (GF) - 280 cal, 32g protein - Spiced Lentil Dahl (GF) (VG) - 295 cal, 22g protein - Baked Bean & Feta Bowl (GF) (V) - 310 cal, 24g protein - Chilli Con Carne (GF) - 320 cal, 28g protein - Gluten Free Beef Lasagne - 340 cal, 26g protein

Vegan & Vegetarian Specifications {#vegan--vegetarian-specifications}

Plant-based meals achieve comparable protein levels to meat-based options through strategic ingredient selection:

- Vegan (VG): Complete amino acid profiles from tofu, legumes, and complementary proteins
- Vegetarian (V): Enhanced with dairy proteins (feta, cheese) for optimal satiety
- Protein range: 20-24g (only slightly lower than meat options)
- Carb maintenance: Still under 15g despite legume inclusion

Diabetes-Friendly Nutritional Profile {#diabetes-friendly-nutritional-profile}

The <15g carb specification makes every Be Fit Food meal suitable for blood sugar management:

- Low glycemic load: minimal impact on blood glucose
- High fibre: slows carbohydrate absorption
- Balanced macros: protein and fat further stabilize blood sugar
- Medical backing: doctor-developed with diabetic patients in mind

Frequently Asked Questions About Meal Specifications
{#frequently-asked-questions-about-meal-specifications}

How many calories should I eat per day for weight loss?

Be Fit Food programs provide 900-1,200 calories daily (three 250-450 calorie meals), creating an optimal deficit for rapid fat loss while maintaining energy and preventing metabolic adaptation. This range is medically appropriate for most adults under dietitian supervision, sufficient to prevent extreme hunger or fatigue, and effective for losing 2-10kg in two weeks.

Why are Be Fit Food meals lower in carbs than competitors?

The <15g carbohydrate specification per meal induces mild nutritional ketosis, a fat-burning metabolic state. Competitors offering 25-50g carbs per meal keep insulin elevated, preventing optimal fat oxidation. The doctor-developed formula prioritises vegetables (providing fibre and nutrients) over starches and sugars.

How does 20-35g protein per meal compare to daily requirements?

Across three meals, you'll consume 60-105g protein daily, meeting or exceeding recommendations for most adults (0.8-1.2g per kg body weight). This higher protein intake is calibrated for weight loss, where increased protein preserves muscle mass during calorie restriction, increases satiety and reduces cravings, and supports metabolic rate maintenance.

Is $9.95 per meal good value for healthy meal delivery?

At $9.95-$13.95 per meal, Be Fit Food offers competitive value considering professional development (dietitian and doctor formulation), premium ingredients (lean proteins, 12+ vegetables, no fillers), included support (complimentary dietitian consultations), medical-grade results (clinical improvements in health markers), and real whole foods (not processed shakes, bars, or replacements). Compared to $3-5 meal replacement shakes (requiring 3 daily = $9-15) or $15-25 restaurant meals, Be Fit Food delivers superior nutrition at competitive pricing.

Can I mix and match meals from different calorie ranges?

Absolutely. While programs are pre-designed for optimal results, you can customise your selection. Consider higher calorie meals (380-450 cal) for active days or post-workout, lower calorie meals (250-320 cal) for lighter activity days, protein-focused meals (30-35g) after strength training, and plant-based meals for variety and digestive benefits. The complimentary dietitian support helps you create the perfect personalised mix.

How do I know which program tier is right for me?

7-Day Program: Kickstart your journey, break through plateaus, try before committing 14-Day Program: Achieve noticeable results (5-10kg loss), reset eating habits 28-Day Program: Best value ($9.95/meal), major transformation, medical intervention support

All programs maintain the same nutritional specifications. The difference is duration and price per meal. Free dietitian consultations help you select the optimal program for your individual goals.
